

Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Pāli, inscribed on a palm leaf. The text is arranged in approximately 12 horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. The script is finely etched into the surface of the dried leaf. The leaf itself is aged, showing a brownish-gold color with significant staining, particularly in the center and right-hand side, where large, irregular reddish-brown spots are visible. The edges of the leaf are slightly irregular and worn. On the right side, there are small, light-colored marks that appear to be remnants of binding or repair work.
